WEDDING of
Stefano capozzi & samira souki in may 2021

Baptism of Lily COOKE in JUNE 2021

Today's Mass: THIRTY-SECOND SUNDAY (B)

1 Kings 17: 10-16; Psalm 145; Hebrews 9: 24-28; Mark 12: 38-44

First Reading: the poor widow in Zarephath demonstrates her piety by giving Elijah food out of the little she had. Elijah demonstrates that he is a prophet from God as his prophecy about her reward comes to pass.

Psalm: Almighty God cares for the poor and needy, such as widows and orphans, the hungry and prisoners, the oppressed and "those who are bowed down".

Second Reading: Christ, the true high priest, has once and for all offered the sacrifice (himself) to take away our sins in the true sanctuary in Heaven. 'Once and for all' means that it can never be repeated.

In today's Gospel we see a contrast between the false piety of the scribes (who are 'stuffed shirts') and the rich, and the genuine piety and generosity of the poor widow. Which of the two is your discipleship more like?

Fr David

LOOK

My name is _____

IN THE GOSPEL TODAY

Jesus warns us against putting on a show and thinking we look good while really being mean and nasty. We are living as God asks when we are generous and we trust God, like the poor widow who gives all she has to the Temple.

BE GENEROUS!

Who will give to charity?
Follow the tracks to find out whether the rich man or the poor widow is going to give money to charity today.

Follow God's law

Jacob's mum is very busy. Jacob wants to help. Circle the ways that he can be very generous with his time and help his mum.

Put the shopping away
Tidying up
Stay on the laptop
Make his bed
Washing up
Watch TV

A PRAYER TO SAY

Dear Jesus, please help me not to care too much about what people think of me. Help me to care more about how loving and generous I am, so that I grow to be like you. Amen.

I can share

We can be generous to people in many ways.
Draw yourself sharing your sweets with a friend.

The other parish meeting will be on Tuesday 16th November, 8:00pm - 9:00pm, also in the Parish Centre. Refreshments on arrival. After initial prayer, each participant will be allowed a maximum of 3 minutes to give their answer to one or more of the questions posed. Our delegates (David Cooper and Bill Farren) will collate the views expressed and report on to the Diocesan delegates.

Next Sunday: Remembrance Sunday

The traditional Remembrance Service will be held at The Vine in Sevenoaks at 11:00am, at which Fr David will represent the Parish.

Next Sunday: Second Collection

This will be for the Archbishop's Administration Fund. This collection helps to meet the cost of the central administration of the Diocese.

November Books of Remembrance

Each time a Holy Souls Mass is offered in November it is offered for those named in the Books of Remembrance in each Church.

Holy Souls Masses

You may have seen the wall box in St Thomas's Entrance marked Holy Souls. Every so often it is emptied, and (by diocesan rule) every £10 represents one Mass for the Holy Souls in Purgatory who have no one to pray for them. These Masses tend to be offered by the priests when they are concelebrating, so are not necessarily announced.

It is a worthy tradition to maintain. As well as an act of charity towards the deceased, we hope that the parish will offer Mass for us when we have departed this life!

Book Recommendation of the Month

THE BETTER PART: A CHRIST CENTERED RESOURCE FOR PERSONAL PRAYER

The Better Part is the perfect starter book for any Catholic looking to go deeper into the life of intimate prayer with our Lord. The book contains a concise, thorough and very practical guide to meditating on Sacred Scripture. Then, it offers a meditation for every passage of all four Gospels. Each passage (which is conveniently given in the same translation as we hear at Mass) is followed by 3 meditations – one focussing on Christ the Lord, the second on Christ the Teacher and third Christ the Friend. Next comes some words of prayer to stimulate your own further conversation with the Lord. Finally, each section concludes with discussion questions, if you wish to pray in a group, and follow-up references in the Catechism of the Catholic Church. All in all, I cannot recommend highly enough!

Sophia Institute Press (2020)

November: Month of the Holy Souls

November is traditionally, in the Catholic Church, the month of remembrance and of the Holy Souls. This goes back to the 11th century, when St Odilo of Cluny started an annual day of commemoration of all the faithful departed on the day after All Saints Day. This day consisted of almsgiving, prayer, and sacrifices for the relief of the suffering souls in purgatory. This gradually spread to other Benedictine monasteries and then to the wider church.

The Dominicans instituted the practice of each priest offering three Masses on All Souls Day. During World War 1 Pope Benedict XV extended this privilege to all priests, mindful of the huge number of war dead and the destruction of so many churches (where Mass could no longer be offered). It is, perhaps, a coincidence – or should one say, Providence – that since 1918 Armistice Day or Remembrance Sunday has also fallen in November.

Remembrance of the dead, and often prayer for the dead, is a very common human practice in most cultures. This is why we have our Books of Remembrance in each of the four churches. At St Thomas's it is located on the St Joseph Altar.

But although simple remembrance of those who have gone before us is an element of our November observance, in particular All Souls Day and the month of November are dedicated to the Holy Souls in Purgatory (known as the Church Penitent). The Church teaches that the purification of the souls in Purgatory can be hastened by the efforts of the faithful in the Church Militant (that is, us). This teaching goes back to the 2nd Book of the Maccabees in the Old Testament (see 2 Maccabees 12: 42-45, where the practice having a sacrifice offered for the departed is described as "an altogether fine and noble action" and "holy and devout"). Many of the early fathers of the Church, such as Tertullian and St Cyprian speak of the practice of the early Christians of praying for the dead.

This is closely connected with the doctrine of Purgatory. Purgatory is the place or state of temporal purification, where those who have died in the grace of God but who are not yet perfect (for only what is perfect can exist in heaven) undergo cleansing (or we might say, decontaminating) of their sins, before they can be admitted to the Beatific Vision. Our Lord's words in Matthew 12:32 and St Paul's in 1 Corinthians 3: 11-15 also suggest this concept. The concept of Purgatory, and thus of the efficacy of praying for the souls there, has been long held by theologians in both the Latin West and the Greek East. St Epiphanius (a bishop in Cyprus who died in 403) even reckoned the denial of the usefulness of prayers for the dead to be a heresy.

St Thomas Aquinas, as so often, clarifies the situation for us: it would truly be bad news if our good works and prayers could not help our beloved dead. That would mean that death is stronger than love. The basic purpose of Purgatory is rehabilitation, not retribution: the perfection of souls, not punishments for sins. God created Purgatory out of love and mercy, not merely justice.

Aquinas uses an analogy. In our bodies lungs do not directly touch the kidneys, yet each helps the other and are essential for good health. Likewise the Church – on earth, in Purgatory, in Heaven – is one spiritual organism. Our good deeds and prayers for the Holy Souls are, in this understanding of the communion of saints, a necessary part of the good health of the whole church.

In St Thomas's entrance you will see a wall box marked 'Holy Souls'. By diocesan rule, every £10 received makes up a Holy Souls Mass, Alternatively you can book Holy Souls Masses in the usual way, using the Mass Intention envelopes in each church. Sometimes these are listed in the Mass Intentions in the newsletter, sometimes they are offered by the concelebrating priest, and so are not announced. The practice of Holy Souls is a laudable one to keep up. Not only does it benefit the souls currently in Purgatory, we shall want our successors when we have died and are in Purgatory to maintain the practice, for our own good.

Office of Readings for All Souls Day
From St Ambrose' book on the death of his brother Satyrus

We see that death is gain, life is loss. Paul says: For me life is Christ, and death a gain. What does "Christ" mean but to die in the body, and receive the breath of life? Let us then die with Christ, to live with Christ. We should have a daily familiarity with death, a daily desire for death. By this kind of detachment our soul must learn to free itself from the desires of the body. It must soar above earthly lusts to a place where they cannot come near, to hold it fast. It must take on the likeness of death, to avoid the punishment of death. The law of our fallen nature is at war with the law of our reason and subjects the law of reason to the law of error. What is the remedy? Who will set me free from this body of death? The grace of God, through Jesus Christ, our Lord.

We have a doctor to heal us; let us use the remedy he prescribes. The remedy is the grace of Christ, the dead body our own. Let us then be exiles from our body, so as not to be exiles from Christ. Though we are still in the body, let us not give ourselves to the things of the body. We must not reject the natural rights of the body, but we must desire before all else the gifts of grace.

What more need be said? It was by the death of one man that the world was redeemed. Christ did not need to die if he did not want to, but he did not look on death as something to be despised, something to be avoided, and he could have found no better means to save us than by dying. Thus his death is life for all. We are sealed with the sign of his death; when we pray we preach his death; when we offer sacrifice we proclaim his death. His death is victory; his death is a sacred sign; each year his death is celebrated with solemnity by the whole world.

What more should we say about his death since we use this divine example to prove that it was death alone that won freedom from death, and death itself was its own redeemer? Death is then no cause for mourning, for it is the cause of mankind's salvation. Death is not something to be avoided, for the Son of God did not think it beneath his dignity, nor did he seek to escape it.

Death was not part of nature; it became part of nature. God did not decree death from the beginning; he prescribed it as a remedy. Human life was condemned because of sin to unremitting labour and unbearable sorrow and so began to experience the burden of wretchedness. There had to be a limit to its evils; death had to restore what life had forfeited. Without the assistance of grace, immortality is more of a burden than a blessing.

The soul has to turn away from the aimless paths of this life, from the defilement of an earthly body; it must reach out to those assemblies in heaven (though it is given only to the saints to be admitted to them) to sing the praises of God. We learn from Scripture how God's praise is sung to the music of the harp: Great and wonderful are your deeds, Lord God Almighty; just and true are your ways, King of the nations. Who will not revere and glorify your nature? You alone are holy; all nations will come and worship before you. The soul must also desire to witness your nuptials, Jesus, and to see your bride escorted from earthly to heavenly realities, as all rejoice and sing: All flesh will come before you. No longer will the bride be held in subjection to this passing world but will be made one with the spirit.

Above all else, holy David prayed that he might see and gaze on this: One thing I have asked of the Lord, this I shall pray for: to dwell in the house of the Lord all the days of my life, and to see how gracious is the Lord.
