CHURCHES IN SEVENOAKS, OTFORD,
BOROUGH GREEN AND WEST KINGSOWN

Parish Newsletter

13th November

Today's Mass: THIRTY-THIRD SUNDAY (Year C)

Malachi 3: 19-20, Psalm 97, 2 Thessalonians 3: 7-12, Luke 21: 5-19

First Reading: the prophet Malachi foretells the coming Day of the Lord, when evil-doers will be consumed by fire but those who fear the Lord will shine out with healing.

Psalm: the Lord - who is understood by Christians to be Christ - will come to rule the people with fairness. Even the seas, rivers and hills will rejoice at this.

Second Reading: St Paul warns against idlers or loafers. Perhaps some expected Jesus' Second Coming to happen so soon that they stopped work and other aspects of daily life, or perhaps some members of the community were failing to contribute their fair share to common funds and to the support of the poor. St Paul had set a good example when he was with them.

Gospel: Jesus foretells the destruction of the Temple, the building which occupied the central place in the national life, and which was destroyed in AD 70. He also warns the disciples of the turbulent times to come, when He will no longer be with them.

We can apply these words to today. Many Christian communities in the world are under attack in one way or another, and they will take comfort and encouragement from Christ's words in today's Gospel.

Fr David

A photograph of St. Mary's Church in Buxton. The church is a stone building with a prominent square tower on the right side, featuring two arched windows. The main entrance is a large, arched doorway. A group of people, including several in white robes and others in casual attire, are gathered outside the entrance. The church is surrounded by green trees and a clear blue sky.

PARISH NOTICES

TODAY

Remembrance Sunday

Fr David will represent the Catholic Church at the Sevenoaks Remembrance at 11:00am at The Vine War Memorial, and James McBrien will lay our parish wreath.

After the 9:30am Mass, parishioners at Otford are invited to go on to the Otford War Memorial for the 11:00am Remembrance ceremony, where Adrian Pinington will lay our wreath.

Parishioners at West Kingsdown are invited to attend the 11:00am Remembrance at the Church of England Church, and Mass will therefore start at 11:30am.

Diocesan Second Collection

The Second Collection is for the Archbishop's Appeal; this replaces the previous collection for the Archbishop's Administration Fund. The Archbishop's Appeal seeks to invest faith, hope, and charity into the missionary work of the Archdiocese of Southwark. This new collection will fund three key areas of diocesan responsibility: Youth & Evangelization, Our Faith in Action, and Clergy Care and Formation.

Please use the envelopes for the Archdiocese to be able to reclaim the Gift Aid on your donation. More details at www.rcaos.org.uk/archbishops-appeal, where you can also donate online.

NOTICES

Parish Centre survey

The Parish Centre Working Party wishes to elicit your views on its renovation. Please either fill in the survey form and hand it to a priest or otherwise return it to the Presbytery, or fill it in online on the parish website. Please do this by the end of the month. This is YOUR chance to say what you envisage as the best way forward for the Parish Centre.

Parish Leads

In accord with the diocesan programme Some Definite Service we now have three 'Parish Leads': Adrian Pinington for Faith Formation, Andrew La Trobe for Evangelization, and Trish Pinington for Catechesis. In addition the Deanery Mentor for Faith Formation is Deacon Neil. Their main function is to liaise between the Parish or Deanery and the diocesan Agency for Evangelization and Catechesis.

Prayer 5

Pray in order to Believe, Believe in order to Pray

St Anselm, Archbishop of Canterbury 1093 - 1109, famously wrote "I seek not to understand in order that I may believe, but rather, I believe in order that I may understand". Anselm, a Benedictine monk, was very much a man of prayer. So perhaps we can adapt his saying: I pray in order to believe, and I believe in order to pray.

Lex orandi, lex credendi

If you read through the Catechism of the Catholic Church attentively it soon becomes clear that prayer and doctrine are closely interwoven. There is no false separation between doctrine and prayer. Rather, knowing and loving God support each other, and belief in is intimately connected to prayer to the Most Holy Trinity.

This is expressed in the ancient phrase lex orandi, lex credendi which is Latin for 'the law of what is prayed is the law of what is believed'. The Church believes as she prays, and prays as she believes. Very often in the early Church doctrine (such as the Creeds) was articulated only after the liturgy and prayers became widespread, rather than the other way round.

Belief in Catholic doctrine draws us to prayer. Equally our prayer deepens our understanding of doctrine, of the truths of the faith. A clear example of this is the Prayer of the Faithful at Mass, in which our prayer to God the Father in the name of God the Son and in the power of God the Holy Spirit reinforces our understanding of the Most Holy Trinity; and our understanding of the Trinitarian nature of the godhead underpins our prayers.

Effort

Just as the understanding of Catholic doctrine requires study and effort, so also does the practice of prayer. "Prayer is both a gift of grace and a determined response on our part. It always presupposes effort" (Catechism §2725). Since prayer is a loving relationship with God, it places demands on us.

So often people struggle with prayer: they find it is dry, they fail to find time to do it, they get discouraged if there are no instant answers. Imagine a young person who thinks they are in love with another person giving up at the first hurdle; surely they would persevere in seeking what might become their significant life relationship.

Similarly with the search for relationship with God we call prayer. In our busy culture it means setting aside regular prayer time, and removing distractions (such as the TV being on or family getting in the way). It means studying the different forms of prayer and identifying which one suits you most. And it means sticking at it, persisting in our prayer efforts, not giving up after a short while.

Help

You are not in this alone, and numerous different aids are available. We have a Lectio Divina group in the parish and Mothers Prayers (see p10), as well as annual parish Retreats. You can join one of the Home Faith Cells and discuss prayer, amongst other subjects. Go to formed.org where you will find videos, talks etc on prayer in the Programmes, Audio and Books sections. There are also innumerable websites and apps on prayer available online, not to mention thousands of books written over the centuries by saints and spiritual writers.

Sometimes, perhaps paradoxically, it is easier to pray in the company of other people than on one's own, reciting the Rosary with others, or coming to church for an hour of Adoration of the Blessed Sacrament. Very often a sick person will appreciate you praying with them when you visit them.

In prayer, the essential thing is that people pray as best they can. It is not a competitive sport. It doesn't matter if other people pray for longer than you, or in a certain way. What matters is that you find your way to pray to God, speaking to him as well as listening to him.

For your thoughts or for discussion

- How do we develop our dependence and reliance upon God in a world that promotes self-reliance?
- How do the teachings of Christ and His Church enrich our prayer?
- Prayer is not reserved for the select few, it is a gift available to all men and women. How can we all receive this gift?

Summary

Far and away the most important aspect of being a Christian disciple is prayer (always remembering that the greatest prayer we offer is the Holy Mass). If we are serious about our faith then we will take prayer seriously. We will strive to become people who pray, people who have room for prayer at the centre of their lives, room for a relationship with the one, true God who loves us with perfect love.
